

Zecharia Sitchin was an author who believed that there exists a massive cometary planet or dwarf star named by ancient witnesses as "Nibiru," which travels in a highly elongated, elliptical, uniformly periodic orbit, being pulled by our Sun into our Solar System every thirty-six and-a-half centuries. The predictability of the time of visitation by this incoming space body makes its punctuality similar to that of a comet -- a celestial pendulum -- yet this dwarf star is many thousands of times greater in mass than the largest comet. Indeed, this massive incoming body has been estimated, by the formerly candid astronomers of the 1980s, to be about one thousand Earth-masses, at the very least.

Zecharia Sitchin's writings cite archaeological evidence from ancient Middle Eastern civilizations of their having witnessed the Earth-molesting passage of this Nibiru, whose gravitational and magnetic forces acted at distances of millions of miles from Earth to facelift Earth's land masses and ocean floors. Studies of the structure of mountain ranges reveal that Earth's crust was rotationally wrenched and thrust up to form jutting mountains having crust-snapped ridges due to the gravitational spin exerted laterally upon Earth's crust by some massive passing space body, some thirty-six and-a-half centuries ago, allowing the ancient Israelites to escape from Egypt, out of Pharaoh's subjugating grip. From millions of miles away, the fly-by gravitational spin exerted upon Earth by this one-thousand Earth-mass passing body acted like the colossal hand of a bowler releasing his ball with a spin, and since Earth's crust floats upon a viscous slippery mantle of molten rock, our crustal land masses were wrenched as one would rotate and slip the skin of an overly ripe peach over the slippery flesh beneath the skin.

It was Nibiru's invisible, gravitationally molesting hand which provoked the worldwide host of cataclysms that are described in the Bible's Book of EXODUS, which natural cataclysms toppled Egypt's empire, thus pouring forth three million Israelites from bondage. Scientific studies of Earth's ancient ecology reveal that, indeed, volcanoes worldwide were provoked to explode by gravitational/magnetic forces upheaving Earth's crust and its underlying magma masses. Archaeologists have discovered that around thirty-six and-a-half centuries ago, tree rings in Britain, North America, and elsewhere were narrowed due to atmospheric volcanic ash blanketing the planet. In fact, it was the colossal explosion of the great Santorini volcano caldera whose ash-blanketing of Egypt's skies is described in The Book of EXODUS, Chapter 9. That volcanic explosion also wiped out the advanced Minoan civilization in the Aegean Sea, near Santorini, on the Island of Thera, and recent archaeological deep sea salvages, along with the characteristically accurate dating of tree rings, have proven that indeed, the Santorini caldera exploded with the greatest volcanic explosivity index [V.E.I.] known to modern science, at around 1,630-40 B.C.

So, it appears that punctual Nibiru is approaching once again. In addition to today's increasing volcanic activity, we are also witnessing frequently titanic earthquakes, super wind storms (e.g. derechoes, haboobs, straightline windstorms that are hundreds of miles wide, hurricane [Sandy] swaths that are much broader than historically recorded, mega-rainstorms and floods alongside mega-droughts, softball size hailstorms, wild and abrupt temperature swings, etc., all of which events are much greater in frequency and in magnitude than ever before recorded. John DiNardo

From Zecharia Sitchin's landmark book "The 12th Planet," which describes the ancient passage of Nibiru, page 242:

"Many of the texts dealing with the planet's arrival were omen texts, prophesying the effect the event would have upon Earth and upon mankind. R. Campbell Thompson: ['Reports of the Magicians and Astronomers of Nineveh and Babylon'] reproduced several such texts, which traced the progress of the planet as it 'ringed the station of Jupiter,' and arrived at the point of crossing, Nibiru"

[JD: a word meaning planet-of-crossing (across our planets' orbital paths)]

"The nearing planet was expected to cause rains and flooding, as its strong gravitational effects have been known to do:

'When the Planet of the Throne of Heaven will grow brighter, there will be floods and rains . . . When Nibiru attains its perigee . . . rains and floods will come.' "

JD:

By "perigee," the ancient writer meant the closest distance of Nibiru to Earth as it passes Earth, toward its gravitational rendezvous with and around our Sun.

I can tell you from eleven years of studying The Weather Channel's daily jetstream maps, that we on Earth are witnessing a twelve year transformation from a smooth west-to-east jetstream flow across the Northern Hemisphere to a rollercoaster-like jetstream flow, which meteorologists agree is the cause of these frequent and severe windstorms, rainstorms, floods, and yoyo-like temperature swings, which have been traumatizing Earth and mankind since shortly after the turn of the century.
