

brachiating

There is a primate locomotion technique that I think I remember was described by Desmond Morris (The Naked Ape), called Brachiating.

Whoever the author was, had said that the primate will move slowly from branch to branch in a hand-over-hand fashion holding on to the old branch, getting a firm grip on the new branch before letting go.

Thus avoiding a fall.

Here in Opposite Day on Demon Planet, we come to the realization that we have ALWAYS BEEN IN FREEFALL and that the things we hold on to are just illusions.

In Zen it is made clear that it takes more energy and more muscles to hold on to something than to let go. In fact, once you grasp something you cannot grasp another until you let go of the first thing. The same is true for the branch. In order to MOVE FORWARD (New World Order hypnotic control word) you MUST LET GO of the first branch; otherwise you are stuck in the top of the tree in stasis – without moving.

Relationships can be like this. I have often seen the girlfriend or boyfriend playing the field; having more than one relationship at a time so that they can decide which one to let go of. Causes a lot of pain for all those involved. Advice: Grab a backbone, make a choice and go with it.

So it is with Religion. You have been GIVEN a religion. Many callers and people who write talk about the difference between their personal religion and that of ORGANIZED religion.

Folks, it is ALL ORGANIZED religion. Unless you made up your own Church of the Holy Carmel-Coated Popcorn Eaters then it was GIVEN to you. You are simply putting your own spin on the Role Playing Game of Dungeons and Dragons that you threw your lot into.

For the life of me I don't know why anyone would chose any religion that didn't offer you 40 virgins in paradise – but I have been in physical pain all of my life and I have already taught you in an earlier email that physical pain actually dampens MK (mind control) influence; so I certainly wouldn't subscribe to a religion that requires personal suffering. From a Mechanistic point of view: THAT IS JUST PLAIN STUPID!

I always get a kick out of little kids that tell me: Don't say Stupid. Stupid is a bad word.

Well, I guess I'm a bad person.

(No. Don't worry. Not going to don the headdress and move to the desert. I haven't seen the evidence of those 40 virgins any more than I have of Paradise.)

Which brings me to another favorite topic of the Dread Sinner. Many people hold on to their SIN as a badge of Free Will / Free Choice. Something BAD that THEY did that has to be forgiven by an outside agency. Someone in the Atheist / Freethinker camp had a response to those who whine and talk about themselves being a Sinner.

GET OVER YOURSELF!

Did you participate in the Rwanda Genocide?

Did you stick an ice-pick in the head of the street person instead of flipping him a quarter?

Just what is it that makes you so bad that you have to burden us with your past sins that a Talmudist would dismiss by, well...dismissing themselves of it?

And why don't you Move On? (another NWO vomit word)

Are you so morally corrupt or so mentally stupid (really like that word) that you can't exercise that Free Will and Free Choice to go all Spike Lee and DO THE RIGHT THING?

Well, I will tell you:

Terror.

Hu-Mans have been infantilized so long that they need a Ruler, a Guardian, a God that they are no longer capable of imagining, let alone experiencing, the reality of being their own autonomous entity. Holding on to the branch of Religion that was given to them gives them a sense of foundation or rootedness but what they don't realize is that they are in Free Fall in outer space. Letting go and grabbing the next branch of autonomy is the only way that Mankind will be free of outside tyranny. The first lesson in Aikido is learning how to fall because they say that is the first thing that you are going to do so you damn well better get used to it.

Most people are in the eyes-closed-clicking-heels-mode of Dorothy "There's no place like home, there's no place like home, there's no place..." hoping against hope that they are not in freefall in the land of AZ (an alternative name for the Lilith).

Open your eyes.

ALL religions are blood cults. That they have been watered down over time using bread and Welch's from the cannibal / vampire beginnings is just a way of making them more saleable to crowds that no longer have the benefit of Convert or Die Inquisitions to induce membership. According to Fritz Springmeier an audit was done after WWII of the cathedrals in Europe and a good number of them had Pagan altars hidden beneath the catholic altars. You have NO IDEA what the ritual and words evoke when you play bread-and-wine / body-and-blood games. It all came from the same thing. You are hearing people admit now on-air that:

- 1) God did indeed create EVIL.
- 2) Jesus wasn't his REAL name.
- 3) Blood HAD TO BE spilt for your imagined offenses.

This is what the Soviets call Trauma Based Hypnosis. If you were given the notion that your actions, or just being born, led to someone being killed, then you have been traumatized. If you think that this Child Sacrifice was good and necessary, then your ENTIRE MORAL STRUCTURE has been Opposite Dayed.

ANY god that was worth its weight in cow flop could have just as easily erased sin, sinner and devil instead of creating a video game of suffering and death with a hero at the end that may or may not punish the bad guys. (Remember: They get out after 1000 years in the book of Revelation to mess things up again. This is ALLOWED! Why would you allow Suffering and Death to be unleashed if you had TOTAL CONTROL unless that was your intention in the first place?)

Epicurus

Is god willing to prevent Evil but not able?
Then he is not omnipotent.

Is he able but not willing?
Then he is Malevolent.

Is god both able and willing – then whence cometh Evil?

Is he neither able nor willing –
THEN WHY CALL HIM GOD?

These are what we call the Unanswerable Questions. Not because they are without answer but because those who hold to religion and apologize for god are unable to answer them without finding themselves in Free Fall from letting go of the branch.

You see the other branch of autonomy is not connected to a rooted tree either. EVERYTHING is in Free Fall. It is a terrifying thing. But once you know and accept that, then you can start to aggregate – collect as if particles of space dust under gravity – with others who have either been thrust into Free Fall (damaged health, courts, etc.) or chosen to explore. This aggregation can then be your frame of reference, since the Sionist Albert Einstein attempted to show that everything is in motion relative to something else.

And so we get to Einy and his often quoted Sionist deflection of making the harsh Absolutes of Good needing Evil as a gauge, and Light needing darkness as a gauge.

Let us examine the word: Absolute. Absolute Zero in Kelvin is the point at which there is no molecular motion. They have used laser traps in the lab to bring atoms down to the point where they APPROXIMATED absolute zero but it was always a fraction of that value. It has been said by some who debunk the Moon Landings that space is NOT EVEN COLD! How can it be? It is a vacuum and vacuums do not have the physical characteristics of heat or cold. So if we were to put a body into space it would radiate heat until it settled at a RELATIVE temperature but molecular motion would not stop. So there is no juxtaposition of Heat and Cold as separate entities just a continuum. Anything below 68 degrees Fahrenheit is uncomfortable so what difference would 68 Kelvin be?

So it begs the question of: If the Bose-Einstein condensate has not been achieved then do we even know what is BEYOND IT? For THAT would be the reference point of something BELOW ABSOLUTE ZERO by which to compare OPPOSITES!

And Einstein arguing his famous ‘christian’ view on Light vs. Darkness. WHAT A SHAM! Except for the fact that he probably had his Serbian/Hungarian wife do all of his homework for him he would have or should have known that this too was a continuum.

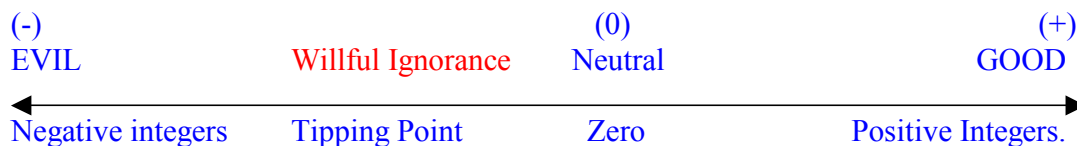

First define LIGHT.

Visible light is the focus of the argument but it disregards the Ultra Violet spectra and the Infra Red spectra. To say: You cannot gauge Darkness (Evil) without the Light (Good) is just a simple-minded syllogism based on Relativism. Hawks can see urine trails of rodents in ultraviolet light. Pit Vipers track prey by heat – infra red. Again, a continuum. To you, a Hu-Man, those are two invisible darknesses at full noon. Are there natural and artificial sources of these LIGHTS that can be used in PITCH BLACK TO THE HUMAN EYE? Yes. There are Ultraviolet-emitting stars and there is a telescope dedicated to JUST infrared emissions in the universe. You can buy a Wood’s Light to hunt for scorpions at night and put on some IR goggles to see what your neighbors are really doing when the lights go out. So, from Cosmic Rays down to probably a Gravity Wave we are just looking at a continuum of the Electro-Magnetic Spectrum. Again, this is not a contrast of Opposites! In fact, when the ‘lights’ go out there is still the Infra Red spectrum radiating so the ‘light’ never really went out, just the sensitivity found within the Hu-Man eye. So, define: Light. Define: Darkness. There is a CONSTANT hiss of microwaves that supposedly permeates the Universe. Einstein was not a Great Man. He was an Alchemist who gave Mankind a way of erasing itself from existence. So now we know the outcome if HIS choice of freewill.

It is quite clear that some people do not understand the FALSE BINARY CHOICE that I call the Sumerian Funnel. You are offered a choice to be shot in the chest or to be stabbed in the back. THIS IS NOT A CHOICE! But your entire system of logic has been framed around that for you. What are the counter-arguments for this? You will not be shot. You will not be stabbed. You will be left alone. The aggressor will be neutralized. That’s 3 choices. There could be more.

Here is an excerpt from my Living Outside The Box paper that I sent out some time ago in response to this very situation:

Evil, Neutral and Good are a continuum. This incarnation of the Universe has NEVER known GOOD. Respite from Evil is NOT Good. It is Neutral. Just like the in the Stockholm Syndrome where the captives thought minor respites from abuse by their captors were acts of kindness.

When you understand and internalize this you can see that it is fruitless to argue about the virtues of rotten apples over oranges when you have never tasted a wholesome apple nor even seen an orange.

SO WE HAVE TO GET BEYOND THIS.

Arguing Fiction on whether or not god exists, and allowing others to apologize for the creation of Evil serves no purpose other than to help me see how to guide already hypnotized minds into a realization of their own hypnotism. A kind of self-deprogramming. I have been criticized for using Bible Stories in my efforts to discount Bible Stories. Because Dr. Carley does not wish me to cause harm to her listeners I am trying to provide an easy slide from one concept to the next. To show that the Bible that promotes a certain dogma is the same one that admits that the god entity CREATED Evil, is a smooth transition within the same tradition. It should be enough of a Holy Crap! moment to put an end to debate but just doesn't seem to get through for some. Let me dispel the myth of the Nice Guy that some call me on the show: If it were up to me, the whole lot would be kicked out the Airlock directly into Space. I don't have Time for Brachiation.

Trying to show that good folks are paralyzed by religion is not a totally useless pursuit, however, the real task at hand is getting them over the trauma of being told that they were responsible for the Death of a God, then convert that to ACTING on removing Evil from its position of dominance. To constantly engage in apologetics for a god who created Evil is actually Evil itself because it distracts from the ACTION of removing Evil.

Ancient Chinese saying: Those who say something cannot be done should get out of the way of people who are doing it.

So if anyone is inclined to call in to defend their religion/god please have your favorite Deity call in instead, I would much rather have a conversation with the source. If this is not possible then please rethink your relationship with your Imaginary Friend. It would go a long way to keeping Dr. C's blood pressure in a manageable range.

Me? I find all this brachiating as amusing as Hell. I'm just standing here next to the button that says: Danger Outer Airlock Door. Vacuum of Space.

Consider this last thought: If we really are on Demon Planet, a Hell on Ea-rth, then why would you lie down and take it? Things are already beyond bad and are getting worse (continuum of Evil); so why not give the other side a run for their money and really mess up THEIR day?
