

Hi Everyone,

Here is another fantastic email sent to me by a listmember who is Doing The Work. I got permission to pass it on and will do it in PDF format so that my color commentary does not get lost during email transmission. Sometimes I like to comment in the text and sometimes you need to see the flow of ideas as they were authored so I will put my entire comments in a chronological fashion below the original.

Hi Patrick

I have many books I have been collecting over the years and picked them up for some reason in the future.

I have a book published in 1908 & reprint in 1966, Sumerian Hymns from Cuneiform Texts in the British Museum, Transliteration, Translation and Commentary by Frederick Augustus Vanderburgh.

I found that the hymns were translated with similar words used in prayers and songs in church today.

"O, lord, highest of the gods,...

O father Nannar, lord

O merciful and gracious father, thou who..."

"The gods honored in the hymns are Bel, Sin (Nannar), Adad (Ramman) and Tammuz, all deities of old Babylonian pantheon, representing different phases of personality and forces conceived of as incorporated in nature and as affecting the destinies of men."

Bel was the most ancient of all Babylonian gods. Next after Bel, the moon-god Sin who had two Sumerian names (Sis-ki and En-zu) and two Assyrian names (Nannar and Sin).

"The hierarchy of the universe consisted of the god Anu, the god Bel, and the god Ea.

The hierarchy of heaven consisted of the god Nannar, the god Samas and the god Istar; that is, the moon-god, the sun-god and star-god."

Note that all of these are gods with no mention of goddesses or Lillith. The consort of Bel is Belit for "Babylonian gods maintain family relations like human beings." "The reason for placing Nannar above Samas was that Nannar was the god of the ruling city, while Samas was the city god of the dependent state, though the sun which Samas represents is stronger than the moon which Nannar represents, and we should expect Samas, therefore, to receive the first place.

The god of the city of Larsa was Samas. The god of the city of Ur was Nannar. When Larsa became subject to Ur the god of Larsa; viz, Samas, became the child of the god of Ur; that is, of Nannar. The relation of the night to the calendar also shows that the rank of Nannar was superior to that of Samas. The day began at evening; not with the morning. The sun too was the son of the night; that is, it issued forth from the night, in the morning."

Then he states, "The idea of origins is apparently not very fully elaborated in Babylonian literature. For instance, the Babylonians did not come so near to the idea of creation ex nihilo as the Hebrews. Their cosmogony starts with chaos. The expanse of the heavens appears speckled with stars, some of which move with regularity. The moon travels across the expanse according to a prescribed order. Then the Babylonian bilingual account of the Creation gives a short statement of the creation of the land and sea, of man and beast. Generally, however, the divinity that planned and perfected order seems to be far in the background. The bilingual account says:

Markuk constructed an enclosure before the water,
He made dust and heaped it up within the enclosure.
Mankind he created
Animals of the field, creatures of the field he created.
The Tigris and the Euphrates he made and in place put (them)
By their names joyfully he called them."

He goes on, "The following hymn may be regarded as embodying a legendary view of Bel as creator, while the idea of destruction is also incorporated in the hymn:

Of Bel, mighty hand,
Who lifts up glory and splendour, day of power.
Fearfulness he establishes.
Lord of DUN.PA.UD.DU.A, mighty hand.
Fearfulness he establishes.
Stormy one, father, mother, creator, mighty hand.
The catch-net he throws over the hostile land.
Lord, great warrior, mighty hand.
A firm house he raises up; the enemy he overthrows.
The shining one, lord of Nippur, mighty hand.
The lord, the life of the land, the massu of heaven and earth.

The author apparently held the view, "the so-called Sumerian was originally a Non-Semitic agglutinative language which, in the course of many centuries of Semitic influences, became so incrustated with Semiticisms." He states that, "The seat of Bel's cult was Nippur, a city lying between the Euphrates and Tigris, a little below Babylon,...Nippur evidently is older than the worship of Bel and the conception of Bel is older than the first king of whom we have mention; viz., En-sag-kusanna, who is placed at 4500 B.C."

I have a book of photography of Baalbek Palmyra showing the ancient temples of Bel which of course look like the Fed. Res. buildings, Greek columns on the outside, etc in DC. I happened to notice on a map in Palmyra, the temple is located at the highest point (1300 ft above sea level midway between the Mediterranean Sea and the Euphrates) and there is a sacrificial altar in the temple and next to it is the sacrificial basin and the ruins where the altar is looks just like a church altar...so the Temple Bel is still here in the form of a church and unsuspecting ones are worshipping Bel. On p. 80, "a true prototype of the altar-setting in the Christian church." AND a map of Baalbek shows a similiar plan with stairs leading to the altar and a basilica which is only found in Catholic churches. There are certain conditions to be met for a Catholic church to have a basilica. There are 3 in Chicago, 3 in San Francisco area and 3 in New York, all major cities. This must be where the Big Shots or the Big Gods are.

ps. I do have a question...a puzzlement and maybe I am interpreting this different. You mention not to engage with the Devil and something Dan said not to talk in the law system. Where ever we are we have to stand our ground. We are all mired in the devil's soup (the matrix). We have to pick our spots to fight. When I worked for the state I stood my ground on many occasion and went against my supervisor and the director. They bully and intimidate and yes, threatened me, but I held till I was ready to leave. And concerning the interaction with the legal system, I have a story. A friend of mine, who is a 74 year old sharp, soft-spoken 6 Ft 2" man took on the judge in a small town near XXXXX XXXXX. He got a speeding ticket, but they wanted to dismiss the case. My friend said, "Woah, you invited me to this dance and now we are going to dance." Needless to say, they were in shock. Long story short, he went before the judge and when it was over, they put up a new speed limit sign in the town where the cops had been joyfully ticketing college students & workers at a spot that gave the town $$$$. My friend was not ticketed and for at least 3 months, no cop was seen at that spot. Yes, at 74 he took pictures and proved to the judge why it was wrong. That is why they wanted to dismiss the case. So he is fighter for what is right and in his words, "danced with the devil" and took him at his own game by stepping on his toes. I know several men & women in their 70's who are real fighters against corruption, more so than the younger ones. Imagine that!

No, we are not running to an island and like Dr. Carley said, that is no choice. I do understand that the court system is a game, bench, court, capital letters vs. small letters and representation, but we have to pick our spots. I took action and exerted my power as did my friend.

By the way, look up the definition of "human" in Black's Legal 1908 or earlier edition. I looked at Barnes and Noble and they changed it in the newer editions. A human was defined as a "beast." Now, you can add to your list of labels and knock that halo off your noggin, ...Patrick, you Beast, you.....or The Beast 'Rites Again....

My Un-Sainted response to the listmember's writings:

The early 1900s are still good and I like the work of Sayce that is free for download at <http://www.giffordlectures.org/Browse.asp?PubID=TPRAEB&Volume=0&Issue=0&ArticleID=16>

Take special note of where your cited texts and translations came from:

The BRITISH museum. Now, most of you already know that in 1213 Britain was GIVEN to the Vatican so guess who REALLY controls the knowledge?

Right! Babylon! As you will see it is not just the Protestant protest that the Catholic (meaning Universal) Church is the Whore of Babylon but you will find in this person's email observations that ALL churches are built on literally the same foundations. Literally as in literature and literally in terms of architecture. My contention is NOT to single out the Catholic Church to call it Babylon but rather to call attention to the fact that the First Religion was Witchcraft and all others are Blood Cults as well (NOT MINE! I'M COVERED IN THE BLOOD OF THE LAMB JESUS CHRIST!)

I could never understand in my earlier years why Dr. Mendelsohn (Confessions of a Medical Heretic) was always blaming the Catholics and the Jews for the condition of MediSin, but then reflecting on his words you get the clear sense that those are the only two sponsors of Hospitals (with the odd Samaritan thrown in – wonder if they have jewish or catholic CEOs?)

Yes, the Liturgies! They have been singing Hymns to the OLD ONES long before Christianity was a gleam in anyone's inventive eye. The word EL means Lord so when you see that you can always think: Bel means B-EL or Ba-EL the equivalent of Baal meaning Lord BA. As I have said so often before, they change names as often as we change underwear. If I remember correctly, Tammuz is the name of a month in the Jewish calendar.

The Moon god Sin (probably the origin of the term: Sinner) had TWO Shumerian names. Wow that's like changing your underwear before going out on a date! The KI surname follows with Scandinavian traditions such as Lo-KI. The Lilith in other Liturgies not related to this email identify her as Ki-EL or Lord KI. I think this is the origin of our word: KILL. En-Zu has a proper name (we call them 'Christian Names' today) attached to the surname of Zu. The Zu was a demon bird-like creature that was valet to certain gods (depending on who tells the story) like En-KI aka Bel since they change names as often as you change underwear. The Zu stole the Tablets of Destiny. Who or Whatever possesses the Tablets knows the Past, Present and Future so in essence can rule The World. Too bad the GOD En-KI was SLEEPING when the tablets were stolen. Do you get the feeling that these gods were weak and stupid? The Assyrians were neighbors of the Babylonian valley and all of these tribes duked it out like the Demoncrats and Republicans. Just like Congress sharing The Aisle these 'opposing nations' shared gods and the names of gods like teenage girls share clothes.

Oh, by the by, Jasper, Sin is apparently pronounced Shin. Funny that after 6000 years the non-Mess 'O' Potamian Folk been saying it wrong. But, hey, Jesus isn't a real name. It is an Anglo-Saxon mutilation of the German mutilation of Yesus for Yeshua that has been re-transliterated YA-HU Shu-AH by the REALLY devout Christians that must have insider Jews for Jesus friends. We can further break down the YA being a variation of Ea; the HU being a demonic surname; the Shu – don't know yet – and the AH is definitely the Moon Goddess again in Egyptian form. So, what we always see is the DUALITY of the Sun and Moon combinations. EA the Sun God with AH the Moon Goddess. Hey, what would you expect? They're all Bloodline. We find the same thing in IS-RA-EL the Lord of Isis (Moon Goddess) and RA (Sun God). It is everywhere you care to look as long as someone gives you the pattern to break the code.

You just have to read the title of Hugo Radu, Bel The Christ of Ancient Times, 1908, to get a sense that this Sick Video Game has been played out like some kind of Passion Play every few thousand years. So, when you uncover hymns praising the Good Lord Ba or Bel for giving rains and good harvest and perhaps praise for wiping out their crops and houses with monsoons since he is also the God of The Storm; you can just tag a few Child Sacrifices to the end of this equation for his appeasement since THEY ARE ALL THE SAME PATTERN and it gets you back to the origin of the Video Game.

But these are the PUBLIC FACES of the Gods. This is the Male Monism. These are the ones that the British Museum and others are talking about and feeding in small doses to the people who bother to lift the rock to see what slimy things are crawling beneath. What the DON'T show you unless you dig is the DARK SIDE. There may be the Happy Happy sing-song to Good Ole Bel, with a few tots tossed in the sacrificial fires for good measure but the TRUE SOURCE OF POWER is not going to be revealed so easily.

Think about it: Christians rage at the idea that the Sixth and Seventh Books of Moses that are not part of the Canon are books on Black Magick. Many will deride the two Magicians of Pharaoh turning their rods into snakes but go into full Ice Cream Cone Brain Freeze Mental Block over the fact that Moses threw down too and the only difference between his Harry Potter Wand Magick and that of the court magicians (whom he probably trained under since he was supposed to have been an Egyptian prince) was that HIS ROD WAS BIGGER. Moses' serpent rod ate the other two. God is Great! It isn't magick because GOD did it – that makes it a MIRACLE – the others were just TRICKS.

Man, with that kind of psychosis walking the street it is a wonder anyone is actually a functioning Slave Work Unit.

Do I digress?

Certainly not.

That the Magi and Moishé both threw down and got Snake Eyes just scratches the surface that there was Black Magicks in the Bible and it was being covered up. Why is it not expanded on? Because if you knew what THEY KNEW then you would be in competition. So, my listmember posits the question of: Why there is no appearance or mention of the Lilith/Lilituv? WOULD YOU ADVERTISE YOUR OCCULT, TOP-SECRET POWER STRUCTURE? The True Power behind the scenes? The very thing that has been successfully hidden for 6000 years? Have you ever wondered why the ILU AMON ATYS (Illuminati – Princes of the MOON and SUN) have been so successful? It isn't because they have been publishing in Archeology Today. This is the stumbling block for most Christians (I love to use their own words). If they can't find it in the Bible then they don't know where else to look. After all the Bible tells them that the Tree of the Knowledge of Good & Plenty KILLS, so there is no incentive to look in say: A Luciferian Witchcraft Grimoire (most are held in the Vatican archives); or any other TEXT that deals with comparative religion. "God said it, I beLIEve it, and that settles it"...but god spoke in Adamic Language, most people have a hard time with English as a First Language let alone understand Modern, Ancient or Paleolithic Hebrew (which, by the way, looks a hell of a lot like Persian to my untrained eye), so how do you have the first clue what 'he' said?

So, we have to go beyond the Texts Available to find the Secret Knowledge and with both researches we MUST pay MORE ATTENTION to the PATTERNS than the CONTENT.

What is clear is that just like Modern Wiccans EVERYONE WAS WORSHIPPING THE MOON! Why is this significant? Why do I always emphasize it? Well, to preview what I intend to put in my second book it is because EVERYONE ELSE IS WHINING ABOUT THE LUCIFERIAN SUN CULT. If you are FOCUSED on ONE THING then you are NOT paying attention to the WOMAN behind the curtain. In Martial Arts if your opponent grabs you with one hand you no longer need to worry about it – you know where it is. It is the other hand that you have to be aware of. It could come out of nowhere and strike you dead.

Yes, I know that there are reputable scholars who will tell you that the MOON in some of these religions is a male deity. ALL OF THESE DISINFORMERS cover-up the fact that these Entities were all Androgyne Chimeras! Dr. Carley and I are trying to bring this into scientific MEDICAL FACT that you can have TWO SEPARATE GENOMES IN THE SAME BODY AND THEY CAN BE TWO SEPARATE SEXES!

This is Science folks, the stuff that saved my life, and directs my future. This is NOT beLIEf, it is not a fuzzy feeling from some old book that some stranger told me about in a dead language that I can't read, it is not RELIGION. Molecular Biological FACT.

And here's where you see the patterns:

Ea (Yah, Yahoovah, Yahweh); and Ba (Bel, Baal, Beelzebub); and Anu (The HOLY Ghost – what makes a dead spirit holy or unholy?; Anubis, etc.)

The Sumerian Trinity of Ea, Ba, and Anu is the Father, Son and Holy Crap of the Other Religions.

Nannar Moon, Samash Sun, Ishtar Stars. Trinity. Father, Sun and Empty Ghostly Space with more Suns since Stars are Suns and the Sun is a Star. Have you been getting the impression that you can't get away from Star Worshipping Cults?

Funny thing Ishtar – the androgyne duality is the female that is the Isis, et al., until you cross-reference her back to Lilituv/Lilith. When you think: Bloodline you must think CLONE. With brother/sister and cousin coupling we are looking at a genome that remains relatively unchanged except for the Drift that happens that makes them Whacked In The Head like an Inbred Pikaneez Yap Dog (yes, I know I spelt it wrong – I can't stand those ankle-biters). If they are essentially the same Genome of Androgynes then IT DOESN'T MATTER WHAT THEIR NAMES ARE THROUGH THE CULTURES AND THROUGH THE CENTURIES/MILLENNIA – THEY WILL ALWAYS BE THE SAME PURE EVIL.

So, my position is that the True Belle of the Baal is not the World-Saving Benevolent Male Deity that is forced on every religion from here to the Equator, but rather the Dark Child-Murdering Female that gives a pretty accurate representation of just what is going on all around the globe (unless you are a Flat-Earther and then it would be: pancake. Can I get organic blueberries and real Maple Syrup with that?)

The LIL family is not without mention. You will find in Sayce's work that En-LIL or Lord of Ghosts (a single consonant away from the Hebrew Lord of Hosts) carries the essential pattern of the Lilutuv, Lilituv, Lili, Lilu, ILI, ILU depending on which nation or city/state the Pet Demon happens to be claimed. The Assyrian; Akkadian/Semite; Sumerian; Babylonian; Persian, Aramaean melting pot was a War Game of who can get their hand the highest on the baseball bat.

Legend has it that Sargon the Akkadian was the original Qain of Cain and Habel. Legend also has it that although Hadam (the first man) did the Nasty with the Queen Vampyre and sired some little devils that when Qain was evicted from the Suburbs of Eden after showing his brother what a Real Sacrifice to god was, that he took Lilith as his wife. She got around in those days with a recorded copious copulation rate of 100 Demon Babies per day.

Now let's evaluate your Perfect Opposite Day manipulation of the Gods and see how it tracks:

"The reason for placing Nannar above Samas was that Nannar was the god of the ruling city, while Samas was the city god of the dependent state, though the sun which Samas represents is stronger than the moon which Nannar represents, and we should expect Samas, therefore, to receive the first place. The god of the city of Larsa was Samas. The god of the city of Ur was Nannar. When Larsa became subject to Ur the god of Larsa; viz, Samas, became the child of the god of Ur; that is, of Nannar. The relation of the night to the calendar also shows that the rank of Nannar was superior to that of Samas. The day began at evening; not with the morning. The sun too was the son of the night; that is, it issued forth from the night, in the morning."

Ur of the Chaldees (Aramaeans from which the Aramaic spoken by Jesus and other practitioners of the Black Arts comes from) is the home of Abram, Fashioner of Idols, Inventor of the ONE MALE GOD. But wait! We can see that the city/state of Ur had THE MOON as its chief deity and Samash was inferior and an offspring.

DAY BEGAN AT EVENING –

You don't get more Opposite DAY than that!

To this day, the Hebrew Day begins at Night. Interesting. Pretty handy if you are a Vampire – easier to get around if your day starts with the Graveyard Shift. I have been saying the whole time that the FIRST religion was that of Witchcraft – Moon Worshipping Lilith Cult and here we have confirmation that the PRIMARY deity of Ur was The Moon. Judaism, Islam, Christianity and Satanism ALL came out of the Chaldean Abramic Traditions of Moon Worship and ALL require Blood Sacrifice. The Samaritans practiced animal sacrifice for 2000 years UNINTERRUPTED. You might think that this is unprecedented or not relevant today. Americans KILL BY PROXY MILLIONS of animals in slaughterhouses called Meat Processing Plants.

PATTERNS MY DEAR DRAGONFLIES. ALWAYS LOOK FOR THE PATTERNS!!!!

Day begins at night, Moon worship, Feminine rule over Masculine. Really puts things into a spin unless you realize you only have to turn your Master Template Overlay completely over to the other side, upside-down and switch left for right AND THEN IT ALL FITS. I have to save something for my book so I will NOT tell you WHY the Moon is superior. You will have to study the works of the Masons (Mah's Sons) to understand that.

"The idea of origins is apparently not very fully elaborated in Babylonian literature. For instance, the Babylonians did not come so near to the idea of creation ex nihilo as the Hebrews. Their cosmogony starts with chaos..."

I've got a real big problem with this: The Semite version: In the beginning The World was without form and Void and Darkness moved over the Face of The Deep; implies that there WAS SOMETHING THERE. It was NOT ex nihilo (from nothing, although that is another Masonic Riddle that I will not explain). The Deep is The Abyss is Tiamat the Great Salt Water Ocean the MOTHER OF LILITH. You're not going to get this from one text, you have to collate a ton of books sift through the patterns and take what doesn't pass through the screen mesh. Marduk by the way chopped mommy into bits and scattered her all around. Very dysfunctional family.

When you review Sayce's work you will find that there was never a concept of God-Kings until the Semites got involved and even today we see the Divine Right of Kings acted out in modern politics.

Baalbek Palmyra – even the names are recycled as Place Names in the USA. Folks, this is NOT a coincidence. The listmember's insight that the Temple looks like the Federal Reserve buildings is not lost on authors like the NYT Best Seller, Secrets of The Temple, How the Federal Reserve Runs the Country, William Greider, 1987, 768 pages. The listmember's observations that these temples are of the same Pattern as those of churches and basilica is not lost on those who know Fritz Springmeier's lectures where he talks about the post WWII survey of cathedrals where they found Pagan Altars nested under the catholic altars. YOU DON'T KNOW WHAT YOU ARE PARTICIPATING IN WHEN YOU HAVE NO IDEA WHAT THE ROOTS OF YOUR CHOSEN BLOOD CULT RELIGION REALLY IS! To say that Eating Flesh and Drinking Blood is the kind of Cannibalism and Vampirism that is reserved for Satanists and Those Other Guys because you eat Wonder Bread and drink Welch's is as ridiculous as worshipping at a church that has an altar to Lilith under the covers.

Chicago and New York do not surprise me at all, but I would have suspected that the other basilicas would have been in Los Angeles instead of San Francisco, but now that makes geological sense especially because of The Bay. Geomancy will be covered in my second book.

If you evaluate your very well-told story about the gentleman that took on the court/devil, you will see that you outlined that he did not argue, negotiate or plead with the Devil. He COMMANDED IT TO DO HIS WILL. My dear author, and fellow dragonflies, this is the ESSENCE of what Dr. Carley and I are talking about.

Dragonflies are also called Mosquito Wolves. They eat vampires – and look cool too!

Bouvier's Law Dictionary has Hu-mans as MONSTERS, which just goes to show you that you were NEVER party to WE THE PEOPLE. You can't be People if you is a Monster. So, our listmember cured me of my Halotosis. Never wanted a Halo anyway – itched too much and the light kept me awake at night. Saint Patrick for a day. I really do love the way the Irish tell the story of St. Patty: He drove all of the Snakes off the Island. But there were NEVER any snakes on The Emerald Isle! See, he did a good job, didn't he?
